Restoration of an old farmhouse.

On a beautifully situated plot, a unique building project has been realised by a renowned architect for the restoration and extension of an old farmhouse.

An outbuilding has been restored to a variety of uses and forms part of a courtyard with an old restored well. The result is a classic house with modern technology and a generous room layout but with a Mediterranean character. The garden project includes a pool with 70m2 of water surface and water basins in the gardens around the property.

There is mains electricity and a deep well for the water supply.
